Poultry

FOR TWO HUNDRED LEGHORNS

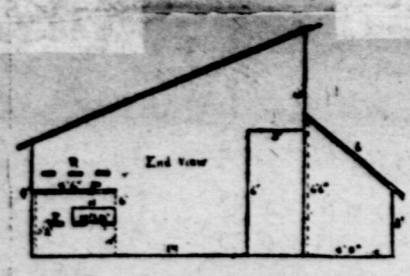

Structure shown in illustration proved entirely satisfactory during severe winter.

During the severe weather of last winter the house shown in the illustration gave us entire satisfaction, writes F. T. Tiffany in Country Gentleman. In this house we had 185 pullets and 15 cockerels, and had no trouble with colds as was the case with an open-front house.

This house is 30 feet long, 14 feet wide, 10 feet high in front, and 5 feet high in the rear; on the front side of the house, facing south, are two openings 8 by 4 feet 6 inches each; these openings are covered on the outside with inch mesh wire to keep out the sparrows; these openings have frames on the inside covered with muslin, which on cold nights is placed over the openings.

The addition in the front is 12 feet long by 4 feet 8 inches wide, and is 6 feet 6 inches high where it joins the building, and 3 feet high at the lower side. The roof of this comprises 4 hot-bed sash 8 feet wide by 6 feet long. This is used as a dusting room, and the roof furnishes light for the rest of the building. These sash are made so they will slide down in hot weather or when we wish to put in new dust. There are also in front two openings 18 inches high to let the fowls out; these openings have sliding doors on the inside.

On one end of the building we have a door 3 by 6 feet for entrance. All weather boarding is white pine German siding, except on the north side, which is boarded first with batten boards and then with siding over it. The roof is covered with shingles. Inside the house on the north side is the roosting place; the dropping-board is 34 feet from the floor and is 4½ feet wide and runs the length of the building. Under the dropping board are the nests, 14 by 16 inches. There rest on a platform composed of two fence boards about 4 inches apart and can be taken out separately to be cleaned. In the rear of the nests is a board 4 inches wide for the hens to light on to enter the nests. The nests are 16 inches from the floor; in front of the nests is a muslin curtain which hangs within 8 inches of the floor; this makes the nests secluded. The roost poles are about 6 inches above the dropping board and are one foot apart and run the length of the building.

This house can be built for less than $2 per foot.

Profit in Mixed Poultry

Most money is made where chickens are kept as adjunct to other general farm crops.

There is no doubt but that the great profit is made where poultry is kept as an adjunct to the other farm crops. On the general farm the feed item and the labor item, as well as the item of land, are of smaller account than on larger poultry farms. To the farmer who is willing to give as much attention to the poultry as he does to any other part of the farm operations, there is a good profit to be made with very little expenditure of time and money. Wherever it is possible the colony house system is strongly recommended for the general farm. It has the advantage of being able to move poultry to any part of the farm, and many times a corn or stubble field for the fowls to range over would mean a great saving in the feed bill. The droppings would also help to fertilize the land, as they are richer than that of any other domestic animal. Poultry kept in this way and receiving the proper attention should prove to be one of the best paying branches of the farm.

Current Wit, and Humor

A Job for an Expert.

A gang of navvies were employed on a railway contract removing earth with wheelbarrows. While proceeding with his work one of the navvies noticed that the wheel of his barrow was squeaking terribly, and to put a stop to the noise he turned the barrow over, and was in the act of greasing it when the ganger noticed him and shouted out:

"Halloo! O'Brien! Halloo, sir! What the deuce are you doing?"

"I'm greasing my barrow, sir."

"Who told you to do that?"

"Sure, no one, sir. I took it upon myself."

"Well, don't let me catch you at it again. What do you know about machinery?"—Til-Bits.

No Chance for Detection.

"Townley says you'll have to count him out of the theater party."

"Eh? What's the matter?"

"He's so hoarse he can't speak."

"Tell him to come, anyway. You can pair him off with the Gabber girl we won't give him a chance to say a word."

How It Happened.

"Did you quarrel with your wife's mother that she went home so soon?"

"No, my wife quarreled with her."

"Your wife?"

"Yes; you see, she ordered me not to smoke in the house and I was smoking the cigars my wife gave me on my birthday."

Womanly Caution.

"Oh, Harold," said Mrs. Newley, "a strange man was here today and he said he wished to read our gas meter."

"Well, did you let him in?"

"Mercy, no! He used very poor grammar and I felt sure that he would not read it properly."—Judge.

THE total of canal excavation to February 1st was 160,591,180 cubic yards, leaving 34,732,199 cubic yards to be completed. This shows that about one-fifth of the entire work of excavation yet remains to be done. On the same date 78 per cent of the concrete work on the locks was in place, Gatun locks being 90 per cent completed, the Pedro Miguel lock over 96 per cent, and the twin locks at Miraflores over 48 per cent completed.

A GEORGIA dispatch says that a great deal of cotton is abandoned in the fields because pickers are so hard to get and the ground is so wet that it is almost impossible to travel over the cotton fields. In view of the enormous amount of last season's cotton which has been ginned, if any considerable amount still remains unpicked the crop must have been very much in excess of the estimates of the Department of Agriculture. As to the labor supply, the agricultural districts of the South may find it to their advantage to guarantee complete personal protection to the negroes whose procession toward the big towns has been stimulated by lynchings and race wars.

ITALY was the first country which had occasion to use aeroplanes in actual war in Tripoli, and the result was interesting. The aerial fleet has only forty aeroplanes and pilots sufficient, but there will soon be many more added, and owing to a good organization the question of army aeroplanes is to be rapidly developed. At present there are three military grounds in Italy, one on the Ticino River, one at Aviano, and a third at Pordenone. Three bases are soon to be installed. As regards airships, it may be mentioned that two small airships of 5,000 cubic yards were used at Tripoli. Italy now has three airships of this size, and is soon to have three others of 15,000 cubic yards. While the airships are built at the military shops the aeroplanes have to be ordered from France, but it is hoped to build them at home in the near future.

TRULY, the Atlantic Ocean is becoming a pond, as some globe-trotters are pleased to call it. The sailing of the Lusitania and the Mauretania from New York has now been fixed at 1 A. M., so that passengers may enjoy a Tuesday night at the theatre or opera before going aboard, and will reach London on the following Monday in time for luncheon. This is looked upon as a great saving in time at both ends. Travelers now go aboard in evening clothes, fit a buffet lunch ready for them, and when they wake up are far out at sea. Big ocean steamships are now almost as regular in their sailings and arrivals as railroad trains.

The Price of Health.

"Take what you will," said the gods to mortals—"pay for it." The truth that this old Persian proverb teaches is especially clear when applied to health and disease. Health is the normal thing; the human machinery was created to produce certain definite results, and should produce no other.

At the same time, human beings differ physically as much as they do morally and mentally. All about us we see physical millionaires, misers, beggars, spendthrifts, and in watching them we observe that the race is not always to the swift or the battle to the strong. Many a man born rich in the clean blood and iron nerves of generations of careful ancestors has ended his days a pitiable invalid; many another, born to physical poverty, has by wise thrift built up a little capital of health and vigor that has carried him to a comfortable old age.

The whole question is, "What do you want, and what will you give for it?" An inveterate smoker, perishing miserably with cancer of the throat, said boldly that he would risk it again rather than go without his tobacco; a woman whose dietary errors brought her terrifying and agonizing attacks of acute indigestion averred that she would rather die than diet. At least, such persons know what they want and intend to have it.

Unfortunately, they never stop to consider the effect of their folly and self-indulgence on others. We are all so bound together for good or ill that the man who "is no one's enemy but his own" is yet to be discovered. To live within our income, physically, is a duty we not only to ourselves but to each other. A man may squander his little capital of health gaily in midnight dissipation, but then he is bankrupt, with not so much as a kind word or smile for his family. Stevenson said that one way of duty and happiness was "to earn a little, and spend a little less"; and it is a good rule in whatever terms it is interpreted.

Old Sol appeared yesterday, and after a week of rain, snow, sleet and cloudiness, his visit was most welcome.

Coops and brooders should be disinfected often and thoroughly.

There is no better thing to use about the roosting quarters than plenty of air slacked lime.

An unfertilized egg is worth just as much as any other—but it must be found out before set upon.

Rape will stand a good deal of freezing and is often in good condition until near the end of the year.

If you have good stock you can always find a market for it, and if it is not good it will pay you to make it so.

HEN HOUSE IN COLD CLIMATE

Warm in Winter and Moderately Cool
In Summer—Easily Constructed and Inexpensive.

Last fall I built a chicken house with double walls. The inside was tar-papered and the roof covered with rubber roofing, says a writer in Mountain Valley Farmer. Three whole windows were put in the south side and a half window at each end, with no windows on the north. The door was put in the southeast corner. There is a ventilator, and the windows can be opened to permit free circulation of air. This house is warm in winter and moderately cool in summer. Our chickens were not bothered this summer with lice, while a year ago, in the old quarters, we could not rid them of the pests.

WHITEWASH FOR HEN HOUSES

Excellent Plan to Treat Building Once Every Year—Government Formula Is Given.

Each year many prefer to whitewash their poultry houses both inside and out. This is a good plan; it effectively destroys mites and purifies the premises. The following is a formula used by the government on light-houses, etc. Shake one peck of quicklime with boiling water, covering closely as soon as the water is supplied. When it is slaked strain and add one gallon of salt dissolved in hot water, two pounds of powdered rice previously boiled to a thin paste, a quarter of a pound of Spanish whitewash, a half pound of clean glue dissolved in warm water. Thoroughly mix these ingredients, cover, and let the mixture set for a few days to ripen. It may be applied with a whitewash brush or made thin enough to be sprayed on with a spray pump. In the latter case give two or even three coats, one after another, as soon as dry. Every nest, coop, fence, and wood trough should receive the spray on all sides. No lice, mites or vermin can live where this whitewash has been well applied. It should be put on while warm. This will last as long as paint, they say.

THERE IS NO OTHER COFFEE JUST LIKE THIS ONE.

Good Morning
A fragrant scent greets you.
A tempting aroma meets you.
A delicious flavor awaits you in every cup of

Chase & Sanborn's High Grade Coffee

Most of the ordinary coffees sold taste a great deal alike—most of them fairly good.

It's only now and then you find one that stands out from the rest with an unusually good flavor, and so much of that flavor in each pound that it's really economical per cup even at an apparently high price per pound.

There are a few such coffees and Chase & Sanborn's at 30¢ per lb. is one of them.

The only difference between Chase & Sanborn's and the few other unusually good coffees is that the flavor of Chase & Sanborn's appeals to more people than any other coffee blend known.

Also every pound of it is absolutely uniform, right up to the top notch standard, and furthermore, each pound contains all the flavor that careful selection, ageing, blending and roasting process can crowd into a pound of coffee.

Judged by many standards Chase & Sanborn's is worth 30¢ to 40¢ per pound. It's yours for 30¢.

Jarring the Welkin.

The candidate for president, when I was younger, never went cavoring up and down the land a-babbling words to beat the band. His captains made whatever noise was needful to arouse the boys, and he, from all the clamor free, preserved a decent dignity. But now the bustling candidate for office of chief magistrate rants up and down and paws the air some cheap faker at a fair; like charlatan dispensing pills to cure the nation's grievous ills. I've heard him ranting, many a time; I've seen him hoarse and gray with grime, stand at a railway coach's door and fill the air with squak and roar, imploring people for their votes—a spectacle for gods and goats. Our presidential candidates should do like other peddling skates and take some side-show freaks along to play the bones or sing a song, and have a monk collect the mon when all the noisy show is done. Alas, alas! The good old days, the sober men, the quiet ways!

Needles for all sewing machines at Roark's.

The double header basket ball game at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night will draw a crowd that will pack the place. The game between the girls is attracting much attention, as this will be the first game of the kind that has been seen here by most people.

Mr. Wm. Eades, of Kuttawa, was here last week on a visit to relatives and friends.

Drop in at Roark's and hear the Victrola play the newest selections in songs, band and orchestra numbers, speeches, etc.

Capt. R. J. Williams, of White Plains, was here this week on a visit to his son, Mr. C. A. Williams. He is making preparations to attend the semi-centennial observance of the battle of Shiloh, and will be among his old comrades on the boat trip and the two days at the grounds.

Judge Wm. H. Yost was here from Madisonville the first of the week, attending to some business matters.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Bible Classes meet as usual on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All men and boys are invited. The boys' class will study the life of Daniel on next Sunday.

On Friday afternoon the last game of the season in the Sunday School Basket Ball League will be played between the Methodists and the Presbyterians. They are now tied, and this game decides the championship. It will be a very interesting game, and will be called at 4 o'clock. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

On Saturday night at 8 o'clock there will be played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium a double-header basket ball game. The Sophomores and the Juniors of the Greenville High School will play a game. These teams are composed of the girls of these classes. The Hartford College team will also play the Greenville Y. M. C. A. team. These will absolutely be the last basket ball games of the season. Consequently your last chance to see a game. The managers have decided to give special prices to these games, which will be the admission to one game plus 10c. for both games. That will make the prices to Y. M. C. A. members 30c. for standing room and 35c. for reserved seats; to others, 35c. for standing room and 40c. for reserved seats. Tickets are now on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office. As the tickets are limited you had better secure yours at once.

Iowa "Hornets" Wish to Meet Old Foes.

The ninth reunion of the "Iowa Hornets' Nest Brigade" will be held on the battle field of Shiloh at Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., April 6 and 7, 1912. We extend to the Courier-Journal a cordial invitation to meet with us on that occasion. And we extend a most cordial invitation to all the old Confederate veterans who fought so gallantly and heroically on Shiloh's bloody field a half century ago. We want all the survivors of that battle, and especially those who were engaged in those terrific assaults on the "Hornets' Nest."

We want you to come and bring your families and we will give you the warmest reception we know how to give to make your visit pleasant. Would the Courier-Journal please have your southern exchanges as far as possible to publish this invitation? Yours respectfully,

J. B. CARMAN,
Secy. Seventh Iowa Infantry.

Death of Walter Sparks.

Mr. Walter Sparks, one of the leading farmers of the Earles section, died at his home yesterday morning. His death was sudden, coming without warning, and was caused by heart trouble. He is survived by his wife and five children, and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sparks. Several brothers and sisters also survive him. Deceased was a member of one of the pioneer families of the county, and a man who had the confidence and respect of all who knew him. His death is a great shock to his wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and the community has lost one of its most progressive members.

Burial will be in the graveyard at East Union today, where will gather the friends to show this sad token of respect.

Plans have been arranged for a party of some half dozen old veterans and sons of veterans to attend the annual reunion at Shiloh April 6 and 7. This is the semi-centennial observance, and will probably draw the largest crowd that ever has or will attend. Two boats are in service, and one of them has already been sold out, with a large list of passengers booked for the other. The ranks of those who were engaged in this battle are rapidly being depleted, and in a few years there will be none left to recount their experiences.

Judge Wm. H. Yost was here from Madisonville the first of the week, attending to some business matters.

Miss Alta Abel of West Baden, Ind., summed up her existence after having sought in vain for health. She writes: "I was a complete wreck—always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed."

"Vino, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic, was recommended, and I can truly say it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

What Vino did for Miss Abel, we know it will do for every nervous, run-down, overworked, tired, thin and discouraged woman in this vicinity.

HOARD'S DAIRYMAN.

A Journal Devoted Exclusively to Dairying and Dairy Stock Interests.

Hoard's Dairyman is the biggest and most practical dairy farm paper published in the United States. Hoard's Dairyman shows a feeling interest and practical knowledge of all things about the farm.

Its editors are daily in the farm atmosphere and confronted with the same questions to solve that are before the farmer. Hoard's Dairyman talks good, hard farm sense about soils and crops and how to best handle them, talks over the good and bad points of cows; their breeding and products. Every conceivable question is considered that will interest the farmer who really wants to make more money and do better with his farm. It is intensely practical.

How Good Would Look a Road Like This.

Right now is a good time to think seriously about Good Roads, and for our people to make up their minds and determine to have them. Our present highways are the relics of past ages, little better than the trails of the first settlers.

Permanent roads, properly graded, drained and surfaced, cost money, but are worth many times the investment. Every man who owns a foot of land should be vitally concerned in the construction of an all-the-year-round highway connecting him with the balance of the world. The joys of life would be multiplied and the value of the land quadrupled.

AUTOMATIC HEN TRAP NEST

Enables Owner to Tell Which Chickens Have Laid Egg—Made Vermin Proof and Safe From Rats.

Who says poultry raising is not a science? A Pennsylvania man has just come forward with an automatic trap nest, by means of which the farmer can tell which hen laid which egg. As the hen enters the nest her weight on the floor causes the door to close. When she lays an egg it rolls down upon another spring-operated mechanism and opens the exit door. The runway into which this leads has a series of small stalls.

Trap Nest for Hens.

As she passes through each the door closes behind her, and she cannot go back. The next hen goes through the same performance, and her egg rolls into position just back of that laid by No. 1. It is easy, therefore, to match chickens with eggs and find what kind of food gives the best results. The trap nest is made vermin proof and the eggs in it are safe from the voracity of rats or other animals, or even the chickens themselves.

IOWA WINTER FEED METHOD

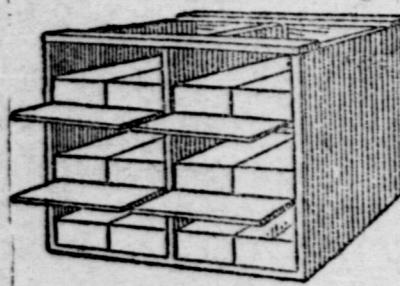

With Range of Rye, Daily Feed of Cabbage and Warm Mash Hens Should Be in Fine Condition.

An Iowa poultryman advises this method for keeping cabbage as a winter feed for fowls: As soon as severe freezing threatens, the cabbage should be pulled up and stored away. We adopt the simple method of burying them in the ground, usually right where they stood. The finest heads are reserved for the table and put to themselves and all the remainder of every degree buried down for the poultry. Covering them is quickly done by throwing out a trench with the plow that will admit three heads side by side; then another layer of two heads wide is placed on top of these with roots turned up in every case. Some straw or grass is then thrown over them and on top of this is a thin layer of earth, of a slope to shed off the rain. Later on a heavier covering of earth may be added. Cabbage thus treated will continue to grow more tender, crisp and sweet and far exceeds in flavor the dry stored kind. With a range of green rye, a daily feed of cabbage and a warm mash in cold weather mixed with cooked turnips, beets or potatoes, the hens should be in prime condition to make a high egg record.

NEST BOXES MADE MOBILE

Arrangement is shown where devices are desired to be removed from one place to another.

It is frequently desirable to have nest boxes which are readily removable from each other. Such an arrangement is shown here. The frame pieces A and B are made of one-inch stuff, firmly nailed together. The wires support the boxes and are firmly attached to the two ends and middle boards. Strips may be used in place of the wires if necessary. The nest boxes are made of half-inch lumber and are 11 inches wide, 12 inches long and 5 inches deep. The bottom is made to project six inches, leaving a step for the hens to light on. A space of 12 inches should be left between the wires so as to give sufficient room for the hens.

To Make Dropping Boards. Dropping boards should be made of matched lumber, and should be 20 inches wide for one roost, and three feet for two. It should be placed from 10 to 12 inches from the wall. The roosts should be 2 by 2 inches, with edges slightly rounded.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."

A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.

Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles'
Nerve and Liver Pills

are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without gripping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a disease. We think of Dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain class of sickness—not diseases.

It was Dr. Miles' Miles' that correctly told Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Good directions are given in the advertisement, and the favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no other drug can be expected to be of value.

For stomach distress, banish biliousness, bad breath and swollen complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative, in tablets or liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
